OVERVIEW

When the office is noisy and you have a million things to do, the last thing you need to worry about is your headset's performance. That's why you should choose a Plantronics General Office Headset or Headset Telephone.

The DuoSet Headset from Plantronics is the headset of choice for busy employees. These headsets can be worn two ways: over-the-head (for extra stability and comfort when you're on the phone all day) and over-the-ear (for when you're answering the phone, using the computer, and dashing out to meetings). Either way, your hands are free to do many jobs at once.

Choose from models with (H141N) or without (H141) noise canceling. If you're going to be working in an especially noisy environment, choose the model with noise canceling.

Plantronics' superior voice tube design with patented SoundGuard® Plus and Call Clarity technology ensures that you'll enjoy excellent sound quality each time you use the headset.

If you need to purchase a complete system, consider the S20 Telephone Headset System. The complete system includes the DuoSet Headset, accessory deck with cord manager, headset stand, and an A20 amplifier.

Mirage Headsets are both stylish and functional. The unique, unobtrusive sculpted shape fits behind either ear, and it's so light you may forget you even have it on.

These headsets use a unidirectional, noise-canceling microphone mounted on a flexible stem. This feature is especially useful in busy environments where noise may interfere with clear communications.

And the Quick Disconnect feature enables you to unplug your headset and leave your desk without removing the headset or disconnecting the other party.

Single- and Dual-Line Headset Telephones from Plantronics offer the complete solution to your headset/ telephone needs. Each one is an amp, a telephone, and a headset—all in one convenient unit!

Both the Single- and Dual-Line models feature a noise-canceling headset (either over-the-ear or over-the-head adjustable), an on-line indicator with headset stand, volume and tone control, mute with indicator light, flash and redial, and ringer sound adjustment. Installation is easy, too: the cable connects to existing telephone jacks.

The Dual-Line model also features three-way conference calling.

If you would like a complete system to use with your existing phone, order the Telephone Headset System (S10). The system comes with a headset, accessory deck with cord manager, headset stand, and an amplifier.
